POLICY STATEMENT

OneSchool Global QLD is committed to ensuring that student, parent and employee complaints are dealt with in an efficient, effective, responsive and fair way and complaints are viewed as part of an important feedback and accountability process. OneSchool Global QLD acknowledges the right of students, parents and employees to complain when dissatisfied with an action, inaction or decision of the school and the school encourages constructive criticism and complaints and recognise that time spent on handling complaints can be an investment in better service. The Qld State Principal and School Board have the right to make allowance decisions outside these guidelines.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the Complaints Policy is to outline procedures for dealing with complaints as soon as they arise.

SCOPE

This policy applies to employees, volunteers, parents, carers, students and members of the public (herein referred to as complainants) and describes the step by step procedures to follow upon receiving a complaint.

DEFINITION

TERM	DEFINITION
Complaint	a statement that something is unsatisfactory or unacceptable.
Confidentiality	The state of keeping or being kept secret or private

PROCEDURES

OneSchool Global QLD encourages students, parents and employees to lodge any concerns regarding sexual harassment, child protection, discrimination, workplace bullying and privacy breaches as well as more general complaints that include areas such as:

- the school, its employees or students having done something wrong;
- the school, its employees or students having failed to do something they should have done;
- the school, its employees or students having acted unfairly or impolitely;
- issues of student or employee behaviour that are contrary to their relevant code of conduct;
- issues related to learning programs, assessment and reporting of student learning;
- issues related to communication with students or parents or between employees;
- issues related to school fees and payments;
- general administrative issues.

Student complaints may be brought by students or parents (on behalf of their children) as appropriate in the circumstances and can be lodged by completing the Complaint Form on the OneSchool Global website under the QLD campus section. It is the policy of the school that all complaints will be acknowledged within 2 working days. The person receiving the complaint should inform the complainant of the complaints handling process and the issue should be dealt with as quickly as possible.

The following matters are outside the scope of this policy and should be managed as follows:

- child protection concerns or risks of harm to children should be dealt with in accordance with the law and the Child Protection Policy;
- student bullying complaints should be dealt with under the Anti-Bullying Policy or Student Behaviour Management Policy;
- student discipline matters, including matters involving suspension or expulsion, should be dealt with under the Discipline Policy;
- employee complaints related to their employment should be directed to their supervisor and/or HR;
- student or employee violence or criminal matters should be directed to the QLD State Principal or Regional Principal who will involve the Police as appropriate;
- formal legal proceedings.

1. Complaint Handling Principles

OneSchool Global QLD is committed to managing complaints according to the following principles:

- complaints will be taken seriously and resolved in a timely manner with as little formality and disruption as possible;
- anonymous complaints will be treated on merit and will be dealt with fairly and objectively;
- determine the appropriate person to deal with the complaint in the first instance;
- mediation, negotiation and informal resolution are optional alternatives;
- procedural fairness will be ensured wherever possible, including the right of interested parties to the complaint to be heard;
- confidentiality and privacy will be maintained as much as possible;
- all parties to the complaints will be appropriately supported;
- provide reasonable progress updates;
- appropriate remedies will be offered and implemented;
- provide a review pathway for parties to the complaint, if warranted;
- complainants, respondents and people associated with them will not be victimised as a result of

- lodging the complaint and will not suffer any other reprisals;
- the school will keep records of complaints;
- the school's insurer will be informed if a complaint could be connected to an insured risk.

2. Complaint Handling Process

The following actions should be adhered to in the complaint handling process:

- the complaint should be acknowledged promptly (within 2 working days);
- the complaint should be assessed and assigned priority;
- if investigation is required, it should be planned;
- the investigation should resolve factual issues and consider options for complaint resolution;
- the response to the complainant should be clear and informative;
- if the complainant is not satisfied with the response, internal review of the decision should be offered and information about external review options should be provided;
- any systemic issues that arise as a result of the complaint should be considered and acted on.

The person receiving the complaint should deal with it quickly and honestly. The person who handles the complaint should have a positive attitude when dealing with the complainant and if the person receiving the complaint does not feel confident about handling the complaint, they should consult with the Head of Campus and/or HR in the first instance and the Regional Principal, if warranted. The Head of Campus will share serious complaints with the Regional Principal. If a complaint is about the Head of Campus, complainants are encouraged to write directly to the QLD State Principal, whose address will be supplied on request.

All complaints should be in writing and the person whom the complaint is about will be given the opportunity to respond. If the person receiving the complaint decides to respond to the complainant in writing, this should be discussed with the Head of Campus and/or HR, who will co-sign the response. Ensure that the nature of the complaint is clear before a response is sent.

Complaints that appear trivial should still be handled seriously. Young people may test the complaints procedures on relatively minor issues before finding the confidence to raise something painful, such as bullying. If the issue is a painful one, or if exploration of it is taking time, a student may need support from another student or from an adult. Students should be encouraged to choose a person with whom they feel comfortable to provide support.

3. Recording the Complaint

The complaint should be logged on the QLD Complaints Register Smartsheet and it is important that the details of the complaint are recorded accurately as:

- it may become the cause of legal action in the future;
- patterns in the record may indicate a need for action; and
- the Head of Campus and Regional Principal should be able to check the log and report on it regularly to the School Board.

These files are confidential and should only to be accessed by authorised parties. The files should contain simple but clear written notes of all conversations with parents about any source of dissatisfaction. This applies to friendly chats and telephone conversations, as misunderstandings easily arise. There should be a clear statement of what is concerning the complainant/s and the complainant/s must agree to the accuracy of the record.

4. Confidentiality

Confidentiality is an important issue for all complainants. It is essential that any complaint is treated in a confidential manner and with respect. Parents often seek an assurance of confidentiality before expressing their concerns. If, for example, they wish to discuss a member of staff, they may fear that their child will suffer in some way because they have complained. It should be made clear to all concerned that it is the school's policy that complaints made by parents should not rebound adversely on their children and similarly that complaints raised by students should not rebound on them or on other students. The question of confidentiality should be discussed sensitively and on an individual basis with the parents and the school's policy should be carefully explained.

It may be possible to deal with a problem without naming individuals. However, even if no names are given, the source of the complaint may be clear. Depending on the nature of the complaint and on the circumstances, it may be impractical to investigate without identifying the member of staff or the child – it may also be in the interest of the child to do so.

Members of staff are rightly concerned that they should know about complaints that might be damaging to their reputation. Such complaints will be known only to themselves and to those who must be consulted. The school will provide support for staff (if needed) against whom a complaint is made. If there is a situation involving the police, the Regional Principal will take responsibility for action in the school and the QLD State Principal will be informed as soon as possible.

5. Anonymous Complaints

Anonymous complaints may be where there is no indication of either name or address, or where the complainants say that they do not wish to be identified.

Complaints from the public about the behaviour of a group of students will be dealt with on a general basis, with reminders to all about the school's expectations. Complainants are encouraged to give their names and should be given reassurance on the issue of confidentiality. If they persist in wishing to remain anonymous, it is at the discretion of the Head of Campus as to what action, if any, should be taken, depending on the nature of the complaint.

Anonymous complaints will be recorded in the log but must contain an account based on facts. Anonymity is unacceptable. A person may ask not to be identified publicly but must provide a name to be credible and an account based on facts related to the matter. Anonymous allegations about child abuse should be dealt with as outlined in the school's Child Protection Policy. Complainants may be satisfied the situation has been resolved by any of the following:

- knowing that changes have been made, and that matters will be different in future;
- knowing that the school is now alert to a possible problem;
- feeling that their concern has been considered seriously;
- an outcome which may be different from the one they sought, but which they perceive to be well-considered i.e. a considered letter or an apology.

In all cases where time has been needed to investigate a complaint, complainants will receive a report in writing which covers:

- the issues raised;
- how the issues were considered;
- the people consulted;
- the action that is to be taken;
- an apology, if appropriate.

6. Intractable Complaints

There may be a small minority of persistent or aggressive complainants who will never be satisfied, whatever the school does. The school may even discover on investigation that the complaint was without foundation or motivated by malice. Nevertheless, it is wise to treat all complaints seriously and to follow the procedures.

Most complaints can be resolved if approached positively. If a complaint becomes intractable, it may be due to its nature or to the way in which it was handled, or possibly because the complainant perceives the school to have 'closed ranks' against him or her. There are different stages of action to be taken with intractable complaints:

a) Referral to the QLD State Principal

In most cases, the procedure will be that the Head of Campus refers the matter to the Regional Principal and informs the parents that this stage has been reached. However, a situation may arise where the complaint seems to have been mishandled by the Head of Campus. In those circumstances, the parent should be able to write direct to the QLD State Principal.

The QLD State Principal will discuss the matter fully with the Head of Campus and be provided with relevant documentation. If a briefing is required from a member of staff, this will occur in the presence of the Head of Campus. The QLD State Principal will respond to the parents, notifying them that he/she is reviewing the matter, asking them if they wish to add anything further and providing a date by which they may expect a response.

The QLD State Principal may be able to offer a new approach to the matter, and this may satisfy the complainant. The QLD State Principals response will be clear and detailed and will offer a meeting if the complainants remain troubled.

b) Meeting with the QLD State Principal

If a meeting is requested, the QLD State Principal will offer to meet the parents at a time convenient to them. Those involved are:

- the QLD State Principal;
- Head of Campus and, at the most, one other member of staff;
- the complainant/s

Complainants are encouraged to bring with them a supportive friend who is not involved with the complaint. Legal representation is not appropriate at this stage. The QLD State Principal, after questioning and listening to the complainant and the Head of Campus, may be able to find a solution. If this is not possible, and the complainant wishes to take the matter further, the QLD State Principal could consider seeking the advice of an independent arbitrator.

7. Referral to a Conciliation Committee

The school may establish a Conciliation Committee if resolution by the Head of Campus and the QLD State Principal has failed. Conciliation Committee is composed of a Convener (independent of the school) and up to four other members, two of whom will be members of the Board. The QLD State Principal, in consultation with the Head of Campus decides when to refer a complaint to the Conciliation Committee and invites the convener to call a meeting. The QLD State Principal has no further involvement until the convener reports back at the end of the committee's deliberations.

8. Meeting with the Conciliation Committee

Those involved in the meeting are:

- up to five Committee members, including the Convener;
- the Head of Campus and possibly a key member of staff; and
- the complainant, who are invited to bring a supportive friend.

The meeting should ensure that:

- enough time is committed to the meeting;
- the complainant and the Head of Campus are asked in advance whether there are any papers they would like to have considered at the meeting, bearing in mind the need to keep the proceedings confidential. The papers are copied and distributed before the meeting;
- the Convener will emphasise that he or she is concerned to reach a positive conclusion and will invite first the complainant, then the Head of Campus to speak. After this, the Convener encourages questions and general discussion;
- the Convener may find it helpful at some point to invite the Head of Campus, the complainant and their friend to withdraw from the discussion for a time, leaving the Committee alone;
- if more time is required, it may be necessary to convene a second meeting. If so, Committee members must commit themselves to attend, as continuity is essential;
- if a positive solution is reached, the Convener will summarise the outcome and confirm the nature of the agreement before the meeting disperses. The agreement will be recorded, copied and circulated as soon as possible;
- at the end of the Committee's deliberations, the Convener will make a full report to the QLD State Principal and inform the complainant that this is being done. The QLD State Principal would be expected to endorse the Committee's decision.

9. Further Action

If necessary, recourse to an external mediator will be arranged.
